AFFECTS OF FINANCIAL CRISIS ON WORKPLACE PRODUCTIVITY

The Women's Financial Wellness Center is the go-to financial resource for women. They specialize in working with women who are recently or soon-to-be single. The Women's Financial Wellness Center is about helping to alleviate the financial vulnerability of women by providing financial education workshops, events and one-on-one financial coaching and support. They work within their cultural values to make sure that everyone that touches or is touched by the center will benefit greatly and in some way move closer to achieving financial wellness. Their clients have a desire for guidance from their financial wellness team and strategic partners. Financial wellness is the state of being in good financial health especially as a result of intentional effort. The Wellness Center offers monthly complimentary events, educational workshops, and financial coaching packages. In addition to those services, they have a team of financial wellness experts that are available to provide support, encouragement and expertise that is pertinent to each individual situation. If you would like to obtain more information you can visit their website at www.womensfinancialwellnesscenter.com or you can contact Rhonda Noordyk, Founder and CEO at 262-522-1502.
